Bishop Elliett's Sermon Concluded.

There is no surer manifestation of the weakness of principle which cleaves to man, than the quick and rapid road by which he travels to treason and intamy. It almost always begins in wounded vanity, or disappointed ambition, or thwarted interest. Personal feeling is at the bottom of it, and it has very little to do with genius patrotism. or with a love of the cause which it uses to ble with the people the government and specially the man who has taken the chief management of affairs. As the dislike of the Executive intensifies, it extends to the cause with which his name is associated. In wishing evil to him, evil is secretly wishes it to the cause, that so he may be mortified and humbled. But in the progress of events, the hate becomes ungovernable, and when inflamed by the hand of some skillful player, takes bolder steps and begins to sneer at the cause itself, and to be ready so betrav it, that in the downfall of the country, he may involve the individual against whom his heat is on fire.-Most of the traitors of any mark to the cause of independence in our first Revolution, began their care r with envy and hatred of Washington. Their first' movement was to depreciate him; to lower him- in the eyes of the people; to throw at him the darts of contempt travelled the like downward road of personal dislike, official envy, secret detraction, foul conspiracy, and although all did not go to the length of Arnold, they all rendered them-selves useless to the country, and were swept from action and from fame by the public opinion of the people. Depreciatory letters were written respecting him from General to General. Aponymous missives were sent to his private fliends, abusing him, and to Congress, insinuating that all the misfortunes of the country were owing to his wakness and incapacity. The noble patriot beeded these things only sp far as they affected the interesis of the cause over which he presided. He moved on amid all these embarrassments, doing his duty calmly and quietly, noticing them only in a private letter to Mr. Laurens, then President of Congress, in these just and memorable words: "I was not apprised that a malignant faction had been for some time forming to my prejudice; which conscious as I am of having everdone all in my power to answer the important purposes of the trust, reposed in me, could not but give me some pain on a personal account. But my chief concern arises from an apprehension of the dangerous consequences which intestine dissensions may produce to the common cause." "My enemies take an unge erous adventage of me. They know the delicacy of my situation, and that motives of policy deprive me of the defense I might otherwise make against their insidious attacks. They know I cannot combat their insinuations, however injurious, without disclosing secrets which is of the utmost moment to conceal. But why the unfailing later an exempt from or maure

o My heart tells me, that it has ever been my unremitted aim to do the best that circumstances would permit; yet I may have been very often mistaken in my judgment of the means, and may in many instances deserve the imputation of error." How history is ever repeating itself.

The only purpose which makes a struggle for independence worth the cost of blood and feeling which it always demands, is that it should bring out by its ferment ng and convulsed elements an earnest people; a people worthy to live because sensible of the great trusts and the responsibilities which will rest upon it. To shed such blood as we have spilled in this contest, for the mere name of independence, for the vanity or the pride of having a saparate nation existence, would be unjustihabte before God and man. We must have higher aims than these, and sublimer views, ere we can stand before the judgment seat of G d with clean hands and clear consciences. And I taink that we can confidently say, that we have in view objects entirely worthy of any struggle we may be summoned to pass through. We have been entrusted with the meral and religious education of an inferior race, made more sacred to us by the events of this war because we have been made to see what will be their miserable fate should they pass out of our nurturing hands. We have been appointed to preserve upon this continent all that is valuable in morals, and legislation, nd religion We have been selected to be a bulwork against the worst developements of human nature, fanat.cism, licentionsness, athmis for such purpose God is deciplining and refining us in the fires of affliction, and when he shall perceive that we have been ennobled by our struggle, purified by our sacrifices. exalted by our self-denial-that we have le rned to put at their true value wealth, and luxury, and show -to distinguish between false pretention and genuine merit-to understand the infinite, absolute, immutable character of virtue-to worship the honest and the true a if the good, and the beautifulto keep in our eye the religion of Jesus, as we find it revealed in the Scriptures and examplified in this pure and holy and self sacrigeing life-He will give us our deliverance and establish us in this land flowing with milk and honey, as a nation consecrated for His own mysterious yet all wise purposes.

To produce such a result, earnest, singleminded, self-sacrificing men are demand d; men who, when they are called to the battle. will not ture back from timidity or foarfulness, or envy or weariness; who when the trumpet sounds to conflict, will not how down upon their knees to drink, but will lap water as a dog lappeth, in their haste to press forward to their duty; who will follow in faith of God and of their leader even though their numbers be reduced to a mere handful. Such men will God ever bless with his presence; by such men will God conquer, because they will never sav, "Mine own hand bath saved me.' "And the Lord said unto Gideon. By three hundred men that lappeth will I save you and deliver the Midianties into their hand." God giveth not away to the strong, bon can save by many or by few. His blessing and his curse follow those who perform or neglect their duty when his honor and glory "My heart is towards the are concerned. Governors of israel," said he by his Prophet,

OLD SERIES,

"that offored themselves willingly among the people for the avenging of Israel." But to Meroz te said by his angel, "Curse ye Meroz curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof, because they came flot to the help of the Lord, against the mighty." Let us, my hear ers offer ourselves willingly to the Lord, for indeed his honor and glery are most deeply concerned. Our maddened adversaries are warring not only against us, but against God -warring against his arrangements, against cover its own hate and envy. It assumes his purposes against his moral law, against these for a cloak, but every body of any sa-gacity sees through the thin disguise. The P-alm," as one has beautifully called it, r al wish is to depreciate and make contempti- "from the heart of man to his invisible Father, and the fountain of all goodness, beauty and truth; and revealed in every relation of them," but especially through Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior.

To whom be all honor and glory, for ever and ever. Amen!

To the Soldiers and Voters of Martin ounty.

AVI'G been repeatedly solic ted by many friends in and out of the army, I have consented to announce mes it as a candidate to represent the county of Martin in the House of Commons of the next General Assembly of North Carolina. As to the policy of the country, I will simply state, that I believe the surest way to obtain a permanent and carry peace, is for the people at home to support the Administration of the President, and to do all in their power to ameliorate the condition of the soldiers' ia milies. Having, I trust, faithfully served my country in the field for the last three years. I flatter myself that I know something of a soldier's li e, and that I feel for him an interest that no one elle can feet who has not borne with nim his tills and privations. His interest is the interest of our common country. I am a Varce man and am "tooth and toe nail" opposed to Holden. I will simply add, that if elected to the position it is not in intention to leave the army, and ductor the time not spent in the Legislative Halls, I will be found, as in duty bound, with my gallant negiment sharing with them the fortunes of war. If elected, the interest of both citizens and soldiers shall be served to the best of my ability. If not, I chartully abide their decis-have been solicited by prominent citizens of Johnston county, to announce myself as a car. didate to represent that county in the next Leis. lature. In reply, I thought I was clear enough in expressing my unwillingness to mingle in politics at such a time as this. After giving the highest assurance that I very wel. know how, that appreciate such a compliment. and expressing my warm regard for the feelings and wishes of those friends, I beg leave to say that I cannot accept. When I raised my company in the county, I entered the service with no expectation of turning back. My motto now, as then, opward and onward until the Southern flag floats in triumphant victory over an independent South I sequiesce in the ancient adage: "Old men for coupeil, young men for war." In these days of peril our country calls for its best patriots, its purest and ablest then, and in consideration of my age and inexperience in the political affairs of the country I propose to give way to older heads, hoping wise selections will be made and that the people may see the cloven foot of this peace hobby, so ingeriou-ly gotten up for party purposes, and u-ed f r self-aggrandisheat, by those who will not enter the wer but can very well afford to discon-tent and di-hearten our gallant soldiers for the purpose of feeting their own election.

Fellow citizens, he of good cheer, be united and determined, for the day of our deliverance draweth nigh. In conclusion, let me again return my highest thanks for the favor proposed, and the warm assurance of my brother soldiers of their almost unanimous support; indulging the pleasant hope that ere long our swords will be turned into plow-

en we first heard that there was an imour people, that by some beam protection for thement of their section I', we at once val intriit of these er thinks hims no yet may be diseard once more by this class fellow-citizens, who are thus misled End betraved. What man that has yet offered himself before you, professing to be able to bring you peace, has done anything for its achievement? Did not they tell you that they could do comething? Did they not promise you that they would? Did they not convince you that their election would hasten the event & Have they done aught to fulfill these expectations of yours? What worth are the resolutions of Dr. Leach? They were stifled by a large majority, because they were known to be inefficient, useless, foolish; and you are no nearer peace than you were before his election. And if his resolutions had beed passed ten thousand times. what good would they have done? Is the min lesto of each of the two Congresses. b ea hing in warm language the desire for peace, less potent than these resolutions?

And now, when a politician of the archest school of selfishness and stratugem is thrusting himself upon you, and basing his claim to support upon the pretext that he is "the peace" caudidate. Does he tell you how he can get perce? Does he show you any, a single plug ible feature of his plan? While he is begailing you with the cry of peace, the enousy is legislating to increase his army; his forces are beleaguering your capital; his thioving mara-ders, are wasting the land of food and furniture, the farm of its stock and implements, and robbing all-defenceless women and maidens, even, of the very dresses and iswelry that they bear abon their persone. In one well authenticated instance, these incarnite villians stripped a respectable lady of every item of clothing, and compelled her to go in this condition of shocking exposure to the house of a neighbor to seek for garments to cover her confusion. In another, wherein an ared mother and two young virtuous daughters were the sufferers, the worse than beasts apportioned out the spoil-some engaging to rab the aged mother, while the others wreaked a more fearful wrong upon the helpless maidens. The sir s filled with the shriecks of the injured and the rained, while these corrupt deceivers, and their scarce less guilty dupes, cry peace -- without avail, without hope of avail, except by the only argument that can reach the foe-the argument that procoeds with the weight of lead and the point of steel, from the valor and determination of our

And as for protection-though you should sell your country, and conceal the spies, as the vile harlot Rahab did; and though you wear the chord and show it when they come, what hope have ye that the false and doubledealing vankes will keep his share of the pleige? Do you think that robbers, thieves, plunderers, will remember faith to keep it? Look around, from Abraham Lincoln down. Listen to the debates in the federal Congress, hear the Representatives there from Maryland and Kentucky, how in pitiful tones they complain of broken promises and violated faith! Look to Tennessee, where Adrew Johnson, and John Baxter, and their associates in infamy, betrayed and sold their countrymen and homes. Protection was promised in terms express and unqualified. Mow is the promise kept? Net a farm is left in East Teanessee not desolated. There is left no stock. no cattle, no utensils to till the soil. Fire has been applied to dwellings in town and country; the property of unionists and loyalists have alike perished in the flames. So surely have the poor people of that desolated region been deprived, that this John Baxter has been a suppliant by petition to Abraham Lincoln, interceding for some poor mercy to be shown her plundered people; that he will forpear to exile them, as he contemplated, beyond the Ohio, but will send them some provisions, however stinted the diet, to eke out their existence and save them from starvation. This petition of John Baxter is couched in the terms of a beggar. It has the whine of the spaniel, and it shows to what degradation an honorable mind can sink, when it steeps to betray its country.

The paper containing this maudlin lament, was sent by John Baxter, the traitor, to "W. W. Holden, with his regards," and was placed in our hands by an officer of the army, and may now be seen on file in the War Department, along with numerous other evidences the Government has of Mr. Holden's disloyalty.

We shall speak of this subject of "protection" again. In the mean time, we ask our fellow-citizens to heed these warnings. When we tell you that your soldiers are your only protection, we utter a solemn truth before high Heaven. If, then, you would make that protection secure, strengthen the soldier-fill his ranks, supply his wants, administer to his comfort, tend his disease and his wounds, and cheer him with the assurance that there are loyal people who will be grateful for his service, and will reward his fidelity.

Criminal Combination.

When the political organization knows as Know Nothings, which existed in time of peace and was made up of many as good and loyal man as the old Union embraced, and which ply had a party significance, existed, Mr. sailed it in terms of intense vitupera-

work, and will leave be

gears the infamy

He could defame men by opproprious epithets for belonging to a political party in time of peace, but for traitors who have combined to sell their country in selling themselves, he has no word of reproach! When the Know Nothing party existed, he thought it right and proper for men to disregard its oaths. to some out and expose the matter. "On the contrary," says he, "a man is morally bound to expose all such frauds and tricks preparatery to his ewn repentance."- Raleigh Standard. May 2nd, 1864.

New, when men are alarmed at the step they have taken by becoming members of a treasonable conspiracy -whose success would overthraw the Government-he denounces them as perjurers for divulging; for, says he: "If O. Churchill, Benton Holland, J. B. Long, R. M. Sugg and Silas Beckwith see proper to join a secret order and take horrid eaths which they promise not to divulge, and then perjure themselves by divulging them, what is it all to Mr. Holden and his friends ?"

Thus be flings off deluded men, who seek to "repent" in accordance with his previous teaching: where as formarly, he not only advised that they were morally bound to "warn others against the fearful sin into which they had fallen," but he claimed that it was right and proper for a good citizen to go into the organization, and stay in and find out all he could, to detect and expose it; for said he, " we publish below a letter from New York, to which we ask the thoughtful attention of our readers. We know the author he is a gentleman of character and a man of truth. He has friends against the insidious approaches of this secret organization." * * "Our correspondent in the same letter further exposes the selfishness and despetism of the order, and concludes as follows: " Though despising the organization from the bettom of my soul, I am determined to continue a member just to keep posted up in their movements, and to find out their future intentions."-Raleigh Standard, Feb, 17, 1855.

Thus with reference to the know nothings. he introduces as a "gentleman and man of truth." a correspondent who, despising the organization, went in and "determined to continue a member, just to keep posted in their movements," and divulge them to Mr. Holden; and with reference to a cowardly tory association, he denounces as perjurers those who repent and expose it. And whereas he being then an editor of a public journal, availed himself of the information obtained as above, and published it, claiming to do a public duty; beheld, when we, public journalists, coming legitimately to the information of the existence in our midst, of a treasonable conspiracy, expose it and warn the people of danger, he denounces us as a detective," forgetting or indifferent-(for we presume he has reached that stage)-that he heaps odium on his own head, if he fastens on us a just censure. Never heretofore in all the varied views which have been taken of Mr. Holden, has his political character been so thoroughly photographed as in this record.

What is Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba? The illustration is ill chosen; for Hecuba, the most chaste and virtuous wife of the king of Troy, was a bereft and broken-hearted mother. For when she saw-

"Polyxena first slaughtered and her son, "Her Polydorous on the wild sea-beach "Next met the mourner's view; when reft of

'Did she run barking even like a dog." But Mr. Holden sees his friends fall around on every side, and neither barks, nor howls, nor whines a new of sorrow.

"What is it to Mr. Holden or any of his friends?"-Raleigh Standard, July 9, 1864.

Army Letters.

The resumption of mail intercourse with the army, brings us many letters from our brave men in the field, most of which are too old to be of interest to our leaders, the news they contain being anticipated from other sources. Not a few of these letters contain resolutions of meetings on the death of officers, &c. We would take pleasure in complying with the request for their publication, but the crowded state of our columns with the thrilling events of the day, precludes our doing so, at least at Six hundred yankee prisoners passed through Greensboro,' on Saturday, en route South. Militia Officers and Justices of the Bence.

All the good citizens of this State well know how carnestly we have invoked the authorities to bring into the field every available man who was not rendering better service at home, in order to reinforce our heavily taxed soldiers who really bear the burden of this war; and especially that the horde of useless militia and home guard officers, and upwarrantable squires and constables, should be enrolled and mustered and let go. And we were disposed to urge this heavily upon Gov. Vance, because we saw that fat lusty majors, captains, and lientenants, and lazy Justices, constables and lazy dry nurses in wayside hospitals were availing themselves of the goodness of Gov. Vance's heart to get into exempt positions, and then, with no more gratitude than a cat, not half as much as a dog, would scratch the hand that fed them. Nevertheless, we find some excuse for Gov. Vance in this: that in several States the precedent was set, by the legislatures thereof acting on those matters; and we do not know but there is some force in referring to the people's representatives the decision of a mere question of discretion If Gor. Vance had assumed to decide, he would have been charged with arbitrary conduct as a despot .-The fault is not so much his, as that of the legislature; and we cannot see how the fathers. sons, brothers, kin or friends of any soldier, can vote to return to the legislature a single man who voted to exempt militia officers and justices of the peace, and constables.

Let every citizen look around and see what evil this hath wrought: how hard a tax it has imposed upon our brave soldiers now sixty odd days in line of battle, while one-half almost of these exempts are either running for the Legislature, or belong to the " H. O. A's"-which signifies "Hiders out of the Army "-rather than "Heroes Of America." The true responsibility for keeping out militia officers, justices, constables, &c., is with the Legislaure; and the members were instigated to it by Mr. Holden, for, said he, after many times urging against the conscription of these officers- If an effort is made to conscript the home guard officers and the second class militia, we shall urge upon Governor Vance to interfere and prevent it."

That was Mr. Holden's language about the militia officers. They are his pets. It would not be fair to withhold the vote from Governer Vance on this score, for he is in the mud only to his waist-Mr. Holden is in over the chin, and his mouth is fuil-while the members of the Legislature who voted the exemption, are in over head and ears, and ought to be everlastingly buried.

The Latest Richmond Papers.

A friend has loaned us the Richmond Whig of the 8th. It contains nothing later concerning operations around Petersburg than that we published yesterday, but has other interesting items. It confirms the capture of Martinsburg, with 900 prisoners, four guns and a large quantity of commissary stores, as contained in the N. Y. Herald of the 5th; and in consequence of this disaster coupled with

The Whig reports no vankees at the White House, and that they were evacuating Gloucester Peint and Yorktown. It contains ac_ counts of the most shocking character of Hunter's depredations in Western Virginia. Fessenden has accepted the office of Secre-

Mr. James H. Everett says-" If they will give him a passport to Nassau, and pay him for his property, they may take the Confederacy and go to hell with it." Mr. Everitt's health is bad; his feelings towards us are worse. We are in favor of giving him the "passport," and paying for " his property," but we are opposed to "going to hell with the Confederacy," for when we get rid of Mr. Everitt, we do not wish for ourselves, por for the Confederacy, that either should ever meet

The Favettville Marriage Notice.

We have received a letter from a very worthy contleman of Cumberland, requesting in behelf of Esquire Valentine Downing, that we should relieve him from any impression of the public that he wrote to us the letter signed "Q S. Downing," which contained the marriage notice. The letter is signed V. instead of Q. and we have no doubt is a forgery. Its author has perpetrated "a jeke" of rather serious a nature, besides playing a very unworthy trick. It was a paltry business to bring the affair before the public.

Query.

If any enrolling soldier in the service of the Confederacy, or State, or any commissioned officer, has joined the "Secret Association of H. O. A.'s, is it not a military offence, and will these not liable to trial by military courts?

This is an important question ; because many who have been regularly enrolled, and some on actual duty-as town guards, and the likeare members. By whom shall these and commissioned officers be tried?

We shall soon have important disclosures of the " H. O. A's," from Guilford and Bandelph. The disclosures will reach HIGH and Low .-We should be glad to have an authentic report, in full, of the speech delivered by Thomas Settle, Esq., Istely, before the Reserves at Wentworth. We have heard from a correspondent, about it; but we want the substance of the speech.

Disturbance at Camp Holmes.

We have been furnished by Col. Malette with the following official account of the attempt to subdue the Guard at Camp Holmes, by some deserters in the Guard House:

CAMP OF INSTRUCTION: Camp Holmes N. C ..

July 11th, 1864. Colonel:-I have the honor to enclose discriptive list of two prise ers, who were shot by the Guard, at this Camp, last night, in ttempting to e-cape from the Guard House and to submit the following particulars, viz: seems that the prisoners succeeded, beween the hours of 2 and 3 last night, in unfastening the east door of the guard-house from the inside, without attracting the attenion of the guard; but on rushing out two of them were shot. Wheeler, who seized the gun of the sentinel nearest the door, jutending to wrest it from him, was shot in the breast and fell dead after rupning off a few steps. Pollard, received a severe flesh wound n the thigh while running, which caused bim return and su render! Other prisoners, intent upon following the example of the above, were deterred from carwing out their plan, by seeing their comrades fall and the entire guard rush to the rescue. Some confusion arising during this firing and rushto and from the guard-house, I am pained to say that two men of our guard, while in the zealous performance of their duty, were accidentally wounded by their comrades on post. Their names are as follows viz: S. M. Wright, of Person county wounded in shoulder, Lewis Anderson of, Orange county, wounded in side. The latter is considered by the Surgeon as dangerously wouded.

On being waked by the disturbance I hastened to the scene and found the officer of the guard on the spot with his whole force. The Surgeons were immediately called upon and dministered relief to the wounded.

B. F. Wheeler a conscript had, been sent to camp by Lt. E Holt, Euroling officer, Randolph, stating be tried to pus off for less than 45 years of age, but that being a notorious cearacter, his word must not be relied upon, he refused also to report to Enroling officer and advised his son twice to run from the militia officer. Being sent here under guard he was placed in confinement.

F. Pollard also a conscript, was sent here by Lt. Prier, Enroling officer 8th Congress sional district, and having deserted from here once before in, 1862, was also confined to guard

Hon. Nathaniel Boyden.

The Salisbury Watchman on Friday last contains the subjoined letter from the Hon. Nat. Boyden, giving his opinion touching the p ending Gubernatorial election.

SALISBURY, July 7, 1864.

Owing to what has been said in certain public journals, in regard to my opinions touching the pending Gubernatorial election. I will state, that there has been no concealment of my epinion upon this subject. I was an original supporter of Gov. Vance, and I am now, and that I have been uniformly in favor of his re-election. I am for his re-election, because his administration, in my opinion, has been wise and patriotic, and because his bold and manly efforts to upheld the supremacy of the civil authorities, as against the arbitrary and despotie rule of the military. meets my cordial approbation. I will fur-ther state, that I have never withheld my opinion, upon this subject, from any one who has ever, in my presence, expressed a wish to know it, as I had supposed all men, at all acquainted with me, knew exactly where I stood in this matter, before I recorded my tration of Gov Vance. I shall vote for Gov Vance, not as a choice between we evils, not because of my hatred for a former political associate; but because in addition to the reasons already given, he is my personal and political friend; we have been shoulder to shoulder ever since he came into political life, and we labored together day after day, to ward off the troubles which now afflict our country. I make this stitement for the single purpose of setting myself right before the public, and with no view of influencing ang man's vote.

NATHANIEL BOYDEN.

The Soldiers Relief Society

It gives us no pleasure to record the fact but it is nevertheless true, that our sick and wounded soldiers have latterly received less attention from the citizens of Raleigh, than at almost any other point in the Confederacy. — Go where he may, the traver finds at the depots of Hillsbore, Greensbore, Salisburg Petersburg, Rickmond, ladies and gentlemen, at all hours, by day and by night, with refreshments ready to relieve the wants and minister to the sufferings of our soldiers. There are now about eleven hundred patients in the bospitals of this city. These poor fellows have been permitted to arrive here, and to make their way as best they could, to the hospitals to which they were assigned: with but little aid from our townsmen. Some few families and individuals have fed and cheered them, it is true, but there has been nothing like that general increst manifested in their behalf. which the case demands at our hands. The Ladies of Rileigh have resolved to remove this repreach from our beautiful city, and having organized themselves into a sciety, have gone to work in earnest. It is their purpose to enlist the whole community in this behalf-and without respect to church or social relations, they have addressed themselves resolutely to this "labor of love." The writer of this article attended four of their preliminary meetings, and could but admire the courteous and kindly spirit, and single. ness of purpose which characterised their deliberations. Fifty-six ladies constitute a Board of Managers, fourteen from each of the four denaminations of the city, and it is the duty of one lady from each denomination, to visit the hospitals once a fortnight. Besides this general board of directors, there are various collecting committees, composed of young ladies, whose duty it is to solicit contributions, in money and food for the society. The society is in perfect accord with the Medical staff of the post; the surgeons having been, present at their meetings, and approved the regulations of the organization.

The State, through Surgeon Gen. Warren. has already appropriated a considerable sum to the object of the society, and will do much more if necessary.

As seen by their advertisement, the Society has secured a room at Guion's old Hotel, and will there thankfully rective any donation of supplies for the soldiers. Any kind of vegetables, butter, eggs, milk, bread, meat, fowls, jellies, wines, dried beef, dried fruits, almos anything, in face, will beaccepted, whether prepared or otherwise.

One other feature of the Society strikes us as excellent. It is not proposed to restrict its membership to this city, but with the hope that they may be induced to aid in the good work, the names of a number of ladies in the county have been put on their list. So honor of taking the lead in this, as in all other good enterprises. Is there nothing for the gentlemen of Raleigh to do in this direction? Shall these self-denying women be found at the Depot at 1 o'clock at night, ministering to our wounded soldiers, while the gentlemen are snugly ensconced in bed? Shame on us! We should organize an Ambulance committee at once, and relieve the ladies of this work, for they have resolved to undertake it if we do not, since it more legitmately belongs to us. We shold not only be prepared to receive the sick and wourded at the Depot, but also carry them to the hospitals, for the transportation appertaining to the hospitals are necessarily insufficient where there is a considerable influx of patients. So soon as the roads are open to Petersburg, we may expect several thousand of these, our brave defenders. They must be churches, and even our houses with them .-It is nothing more than they deserve at our hands, and if necessary should be done. A paper containing the name of a number of zentlemen who are willing to organize an ambulance committee can be found at the Drug Store of P. F Pes ud. Call and enroll without delay .- Spirit of the Age.

E. J. Warren, Esq.

We publish below a letter from this gentleman, defining his position in the Gubernatorial contest. It will be remembered that. several weeks ago, we stated, 'on the authority of our own knowledge,' that Mr. Warren was for Gov. Vance; but the Propress having subsequently claimed him as a supporter of Mr. Holden, we felt warranted in addressing him the note, which has elicited the following re ply: - Conservative.

GREENVILLE, July 5 1864. J. D. HYMAN, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have been absent from this place for nearly, a month, and did not receive your favor of the 23d June until the 24 inst. Nor had I seen the editorial in the Progress of the 23d ult., to which you call my attention. Y u request me to inform you whether my position is correctly given in that article.

In reply, I have to say that it is not, I have never withheld the expression of my purpose to support Gov. Vance at the coming election. This was known to be my position at the session of the Legislature in May, by everybody who thought it worth his while to inquire about it. Since that time I have observed that my name has been used to some extent in the papers, but I have not chosen to take any public notice of it, because I did not think the action I proposed for myself in this contest for Governor could be of any interest or importance to anybody except my immediate constituents.

I have regretted exceed ngly the division smoug us, and have contributed nothing by word or act to increase its bitterness. I have had, however, but one position, and I deem it but respectfully to you thus to declare it. although you correctly stated it some time since. on the authority of your own knowledge." Very respectfully yours, E. J. WARREN.

Too much electricity for much Telegraphing last night. Hope we will be recompensed good showers.

The subject of this notice, Miss VIRGINIA C., the daugher of John and Eveline Mitchener, residents of Wake County, departed this life on Fri-day the 8th inst., at 4 o'clock, p. m.. in the twen-ty-sixth year of her age; of congestion of the iver, after a short illness.

Having known the deceased long and intimately, through each change of life, from girlhood's bunding charms, to womanhood's mature vears; when the beauteous bud had expended into a levely flower, we know that she was, to her sex, a living example of a true woman. As a lady, for refinement of feeling, freshwess and vigor of mind. corect and exalted views of propriety, and kindness of disposition, she had no superior, and but few equals. As daughter she was cheerfully obedient, even to anticipation. As a sister, she was tudiously kind, and affectionate. As a triend she was constant, generous, and obliging; none knew her but to admire. The empoling and refining influence of her society will long be remembered by her friends. She has left an example worthy f emulation to all.

To her bereaved family and large eircle of relatives and friends, we would say, mourn not, for the choice flowers, rarest gems and most precious rubies, are selected to decrate the palace of the master. It is better to wear a crown in the temple of the King, than to be a subject in a far off country; and it cannot be hard to die, when we can step from earth, into the kingdom of the ever living God.
